

➤ Students – Keep this document for your reference. Your DOC Teaching Assistant will pass around a sheet which you will sign to indicate your acceptance of the following standards. The DOC office must have your signature on file in order for you to get credit for the course.

THE THURGOOD MARSHALL COLLEGE ACADEMIC HONOR CODE

Thurgood Marshall College seeks to empower the student as both scholar and citizen. In keeping with our firm belief that social responsibility and academic excellence go hand in hand we strive to imbue our community – faculty, administration and students – with the highest standards of integrity, a quality best defined as “adherence to moral and ethical principles.” Among the standards embraced by this ideal, none is more important than honesty.

In order to foster the spirit and practice of academic integrity in particular, the College has established an Academic Honor Code to which all our students must subscribe. To live within this code, students agree to accept the following standards:

- 1. I will not receive or provide unauthorized assistance in examinations.
- 2. I will not use unauthorized materials during an examination.
- 3. I will not use materials from sources without proper quotation, acknowledgement or citations.
- 4. I will not alter examinations, essays, or other assignments for regrading.
- 5. I will not fabricate data or references.
- 6. I will not use false excuses to obtain extensions of time for examinations or writing assignments.

Beyond the fundamental principles of academic honesty enumerated above, all Thurgood Marshall College students should become familiar with UCSD’s comprehensive “Student Conduct Regulations,” available in their entirety at http://ugr8.ucsd.edu/judicial/22_00.html. Violation of any of these standards will lead to discipline imposed by the University.

We all have a common stake in our school, our community and our society. Our actions do in fact matter. Thus we must act with integrity in order to build the kind of world in which we want to live.

➤ Type or print the text in the box below on all the work you submit to DOC (e.g., Writing Exercise, Exam, Paper), and include your signature and the date.

My signature affirms that I will uphold the agreements stated and not violate the Thurgood Marshall College Academic Honor Code.